

this wide sky

Nola Borrell

For reading only.

Not for sale.

Nota

adult walk

a skip

in the child's step

twilight

a tui mimics

a tui

old mine

yellowhammers

over the tailings

this wide sky
in the grass
a thrush's broken egg

weather change
the first child
meets her sister

cold wind
every oystercatcher
headless

the thinning
of lily petals 60th birthday

exhibit

the tuatara stares

at the class

the running gull

overtaken by a wave

runs on

Motuara
climbing in Cook's steps past a ruined pa

friend's funeral
a stranger uses
her teapot

old dance floor
the piano ivories
lifting

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Bravado, International Haiku Calendar, Kokako, NZPS Anthologies, Presence, international contests

Copyright 2012 Nola Borrell

Published by Puriri Press

Number 7 in the series

Printed in handset 18 point Garamond Monotype on damped 100 per cent cotton 140 gsm Pescia Book in an edition of 50 copies using a Littlejohn cylinder proof press

05/50